

Our primary mission is the long-term preservation of access to complementary health care providers, natural medicine, dietary supplements, pure foods instead of genetically engineered and toxins that adversely affect health. To help achieve this goal, we are very fortunate to have a supportive Executive Board. Each board member brings a different mix of talents and ability, which creates a synergetic effect.

Leanne Wylet, Founder and President is the driving force behind the organization. She has a varied background including a BA in Psychology and Sociology. Her training and experience are in the areas of health education, vocational rehabilitation, crises intervention counseling, medical billing, public relations, office management and has three years experience working in a health insurance office part-time.

Helen Lawler, Editor is highly skilled at editing and written communications. She has a masters degree and all but the dissertation for a PHD in Spanish Language and literature. She is a certified interpreter for the courts.

PfAM appreciates the long term support of Dr. Glenn Hoey, N.D., C.S.C.S., A.C.S.M, Medical Liaison. His insights have proven invaluable to help the organization to keep a balanced perspective. He also gives us feedback on oral communications and written materials.

Dr. Gary Piscopo, N.D. LAc, IT Consultant, made our new logo possible, provided technical support in creating our brochure, edits some of our materials, helps keep us focused on our goals and open communications between ours and other organizations.

Harold Redfield, Treasurer has faithfully done our books for over five years now. He makes sure our records are kept in good financial order. Self employed bookkeeper.

Leanne Wylet, Web Master updated the PfAM web site to a commercial status and maintains the web site at: <http://www.pfamhealth.net> . Her dedicated perseverance made this web site possible and willing to assist others in how to build their web sites.

Ron Longuski and Sharri Loraine, Research Committee, keeps Leanne and Helen busy reading and deciding what information they've requested will work for the newsletter and alerts.

The dedication and support of these individuals makes it possible for PfAM to be a thriving growing organization.
